26 Nov, 19:35Updated at: 20:06

Biden to skip UN climate summit in Dubai — The New York Times

The official did not give a reason US president will not make an appearance at the two-week summit

US President Joe Biden
© Jonathan Ernst/Pool via AP

NEW YORK, November 27. /TASS/. US President Joe Biden will not attend a major United Nations climate summit in Dubai, known as COP28, The New York Times reported citing a White House official.

The official did not give a reason US president will not make an appearance at the two-week summit.

According to Kirsten Allen, a spokeswoman for Vice President, Kamala Harris has no plans to attend COP28 either.

John Kerry, Biden’s special envoy for climate change, will represent the US in Dubai.

The 2023 UN Climate Change Conference will convene from November 30 to December 12 in Dubai.